The SAT Transparency Summit

- ▶ 70 professionals from over 30 college access non-profits
- ▶ Two hours on the redesigned SAT from the test development team; four hours on implementing Khan Academy SAT practice in their programs

What can you do tomorrow?

- Explore the Khan Academy (khanacademy.org/sat) and College Board Websites (collegereadiness.collegeboard.org) and become familiar with the SAT tutorials available to students
- Engage students and parents early by informing them of the upcoming resource to help them on the Redesigned SAT
- Build in-school opportunities or partner with after school programs where students can practice for the new SAT on Khan Academy

How could students practice at your school?

SAT prep after school

During school

Libraries/computer lab

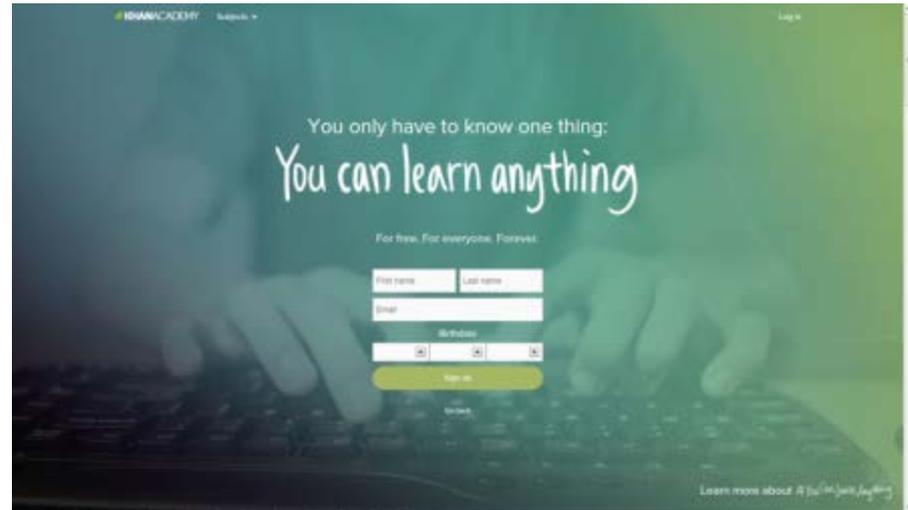

Nonprofit in community

What can your students do tomorrow?

Get students engaged now in three ways:

1. Encourage your students to create College Board and Khan Academy online accounts to enable personalized learning plans for SAT success
2. Identify students who would be interested in taking a “sneak peek” at the product, sharing feedback, and taking a redesigned SAT
3. Inform students about the Student Advisory Board where they can be part of influencing future changes

Test your knowledge

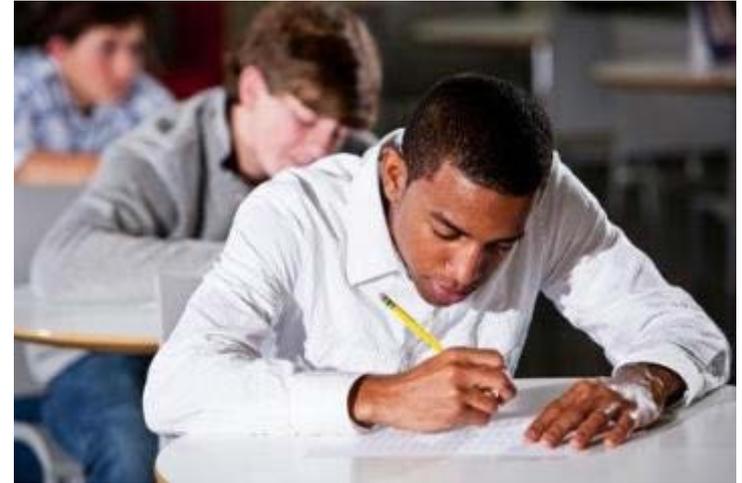

1. The customized preparation resources that will be on the Khan Academy website will be tailored for which test(s)?

- a) The current SAT
- b) The redesigned SAT
- c) Both a and b
- d) None of the above

2. When can all students first access the Khan Academy practice tests and preparation for the redesigned SAT?

- a) March 2015
- b) May 2015
- c) September 2015
- d) March 2016
